Annual Student Night with Barbarajean Magnani, Ph.D. M.D.

Homicidal and Suicidal Poisonings: Lessons in Forensic Toxicology

Thursday, November 19, 2015

Dr. Magnani is the current Chair and Pathologist-in-Chief, Tufts Medical Center and Professor and Chair of Anatomic and Clinical Pathology (and Professor of Medicine) at Tufts University School of Medicine, Boston MA. Dr. Magnani is internationally recognized for her expertise in the field of laboratory medicine, specifically in clinical chemistry and toxicology. She has presented numerous workshops and seminars in the field and has received two Outstanding Speaker Awards from the Association for Clinical Chemistry (AACC), as well as a Recognition Award for Significant Service from the Massachusetts Poison Control Systems in Boston. In addition, Dr. Magnani received the 2012 Outstanding Communicator Award, the 2014 Distinguished Patient Care Award, and the 2014 Gene and Jean Herbek Humanitarian Award from the College of American Pathologists (CAP), the leading organization for board-certified pathologists. She has served as the member-at-large of the TDM and Toxicology Division of the AACC, as well as an editor of Clinical and Forensic Toxicology News. Dr. Magnani served as Chair of the CAP Toxicology Resource Committee and is currently a member of the Council on Scientific Affairs for the CAP. Dr. Magnani is also the author of Lily Robinson and the Art of Secret Poisoning (nVision Press), as well as one of the editors of The Clinical Toxicology Laboratory: Contemporary Practice of Poisoning Evaluation, 2nd edition (AACC Press), and Clinical Toxicology Testing: A Guide for Laboratory Professionals (CAP Press).
